CATHEDRAL OF THE HOLY FAMILY

We are Holy Family

32nd Sunday in Ordinary Time - November 8th, 2015

Today's reading from Mark's gospel reminds us what a great teacher Jesus was. The object lesson he gives, as he watches people making their donations, is one of the best remembered stories of the world's religious traditions – the 'widow's mite' has become proverbial. Mark sharpens the lesson by linking this incident with what Jesus has to say about 'scribes' who 'swallow the property of widows while making a show of lengthy prayers'. The situation of widows was insecure. The 'scribes', so often mentioned in the gospels, were interpreters of the Law of old Israel – the lawyers of the day. They benefited as trustees for the estates of widows, and a reputation for piety could be good for business. Jesus' words, of course, have a lesson for all of us – people who make a selfish show of their piety, instead of making it a 'secret' they share with their heavenly Father (Mt 5:6), give Christianity a bad name.

Mark gives the little widow a privileged place in his telling of the story of Jesus. Having entered Jerusalem to meet his fate, Jesus is giving his final instructions concerning the discipleship to which he is calling those who wish to follow him. Using the widow's example, he goes to the very heart of the matter – a giving that counts. Is there any more telling way of expressing the fundamental truth, that as responsible persons we are made in the image of God, than by unselfish giving to others? The most precious things in life - in our family, in the community in which we live – come through the selfless generosity with which we give to others. We know from experience that it is a giving that costs us something that brings real happiness to ourselves and to those around us.

Mark is linking the generous giving of the widow with the great drama of God's generosity soon to take place – as Jesus gives himself into the hands of his Father for the sake of the whole human family. Our liturgy takes up Mark's lesson. Today's reading from Hebrews – a central passage in this great treatise – explains how the ritual of old Israel was only a foreshadowing of the Saviour's Paschal Mystery. The old sacrifices, offered time and again - in a 'man made' temple that was only a model of God's dwelling place, and making use of the blood of animals - have now given way to the world's final act of worship. The Saviour enters 'the actual presence of God on our behalf', making a gift of himself 'once and for all'. He shows us how true it is that a giving that really counts brings true blessings – in his total gift of himself he has become the source of all the blessings that will fill our eternity (Thornhill, 2015).

STAR OF BETHLEHEM

Long foretold by Old Testament prophets, the birth of Jesus Christ was revealed by a "star" that had never been seen before, nor seen again. We are now able to establish what that star was, why it appeared when it did, and why it did things that no other celestial body could do. As the narrator of this video unfolds this mystery, we will be increasingly amazed at the intricate detail, on a cosmic scale, of God's loving plan for our salvation. We will also see jaw-dropping evidence of the Death and Resurrection of Our Lord. Literally "out of this world" evidence.

CATHEDRAL CALENDARS: We are blessed to be able to worship God and celebrate our faith in a magnificent Cathedral, one which is blessed with world class art. When Sarah Hall's stained glass windows were installed, the head of the German company which helped produce them came to Saskatoon and called our Cathedral the Chartres of the 21st century, Chartres (France) being home to the most famous stained glass windows in the world. Being the home of great art places certain obligations on us as parish community: like other great cathedrals and basilicas the world over, we need to find ways to use that art to evangelize others and to let the Cathedral's beauty speak to the beauty of God. Each year we hope to increase the artistic materials available for sale, and this year, with Sarah Hall's help, we have produced a first class art calendar which captures the magnificence of our church home. Every month a part of one of the Cathedral stained glass or our Annunciation Mosaic has been delicately reproduced on top quality paper making each calendar a worthy piece of art for any room or office. Each picture has been produced in such a way that makes them easy to frame and thus serve as a long lasting tribute to the beauty of the windows. We have produced two types of calendar - a 2016 Calendar and a Perpetual Calendar which allows you to mark birthdays and anniversaries and keep the calendar long-term. Both the 2016 and perpetual calendars can be purchased after each of the Masses in the Area of Welcome for $20 beginning next Sunday, November 15th, or from the Cathedral Parish office during regular office hours. The cost is just over the actual production cost, given design expenses and the high quality of paper used. Don't miss this opportunity to enter into the joy of this holy season by sharing the beauty of our stained glass windows and mosaic with friends and neighbours.

Stewardship Corner

Both widows in today's readings gave all they had to the work of the Lord, one using all her remaining food to feed Elijah and the other offering her two copper coins to the temple treasury. Faithful stewards give all that is asked and trust the Lord to be faithful to His promises.

Moral Convictions campaign – Everyone has the right to live according to their moral convictions – including your doctor. The possible legalization of euthanasia puts doctors in a difficult position. Many cannot assist in a patient's death because of their professional, moral or ethical commitments. There are plans in place that would make it impossible for these doctors to maintain their integrity on this and other issues. We want doctors to be able to serve their patients instead of being pushed out of the practice of medicine. But we need your help. Governments and medical associations will only agree if there is public support. Learn more and find out how to take action at www.moralconvictions.ca (Sponsored by Christian Medical and Dental Society, Canadian Physicians for Life and the Canadian Federation of Catholic Physicians' Societies).
