ROSARY
Sat: 11:45AM - 12NN

Preceded by the proclamation of the Word of God, nestled between the Our Father and the Glory Be, the Hail Mary repeated in the Holy Rosary is an act of love. Is it not characteristic of love to repeat, without tiring: “I love you”? An act of love which, through the beads of the rosary, leads us back to Jesus and brings us to the Eucharist. Saint Bartolo Longo was convinced of this when he wrote: “The Eucharist is the living Rosary, and all the mysteries are found in the Holy Sacrament in an active and vital form. He was right. In the Eucharist, the mysteries of Christ’s life are all found, so to speak, concentrated in the memorial of His sacrifice and in His real presence. The Rosary has a Marian character, but a Christological and Eucharistic.

Generations of believers have been shaped and sustained by this prayer, which is simple and popular, yet at the same time capable of reaching mystical heights and serving as a treasure-trove of the most essential Christian theology. For what could be more essential than the mysteries of Christ, than His holy Name, spoken with the tenderness of the Virgin Mary? It is in this Name, and in no other, that we can be saved. By repeating it in every Hail Mary, we in some way experience the home of Nazareth, almost hearing once more the voices of Mary and Joseph during the long years when Jesus lived with them. We also experience the Upper Room, where the Apostles, together with Mary, awaited the outpouring of the Holy Spirit. How can we fail to imagine that, in that time between the Ascension and Pentecost, Mary and the Apostles vied with one another in recalling the various moments of Jesus’ life? Not a single detail was to be overlooked! Everything was to be remembered, assimilated, imitated. Thus was born the Church’s contemplative journey, of which, in the likeness of the Liturgical Year, the Rosary offers a synthesis in the daily meditation on the holy Mysteries. The Rosary has rightly been considered a compendium of the Gospel, which Saint John Paul II wished to integrate with the Luminous Mysteries.

Sisters and brothers, if the Rosary is “prayed” and, I dare say, “celebrated” in this way, it is also, as a natural consequence, a wellspring of charity. Charity towards God, charity towards neighbour: two sides of the same coin. For this reason, Saint Bartolo Longo was an apostle of the Rosary and, at the same time, an apostle of charity. The Rosary directs our eyes towards the needs of the world, as the Apostolic Letter Rosarium Virginis Mariae emphasized, proposing in particular two intentions that remain of pressing relevance: the family, which is suffering from the weakening of the marital bond, and peace, threatened by international tensions. When Saint John Paul II proclaimed the Year of the Rosary he wished to place it in a special way under the gaze of Our Lady of Pompeii. Jesus told us that prayer offered in faith can obtain anything. And Saint Bartolo Longo, reflecting on Mary’s faith, describes it as “almighty by grace”. Through her intercession, may the God of peace pour out an overflowing abundance of mercy, touching hearts, soothing grudges and fratricidal hatred. — Pope Leo XIV

Men's Ministry

Men of Holy Family Cathedral,

Every Catholic man is called to grow in holiness—but he cannot do it alone. He needs a deepening relationship with God, a committed life of prayer and formation, and brotherhood with men who challenge, encourage, and hold him accountable to a life of virtue.

Cor exists to help men answer that call. Through prayer, formation, and fraternity, Cor forms and strengthens Catholic men as missionary disciples, drawing them into a deeper relationship with Jesus Christ.

Cor is Latin for "heart," reflecting a fundamental truth: our faith, our relationship with God, and our transformation as men of holiness all begin in the heart.

All men are invited!

Mark your calendars!

KEEP THE ROSARY IN YOUR HEART: ONE MYSTERY AT A TIME

The month of October gives us a beautiful invitation to slow down, become recollected, and draw closer to Jesus through the prayer of the Holy Rosary. As we move through each mystery, we are invited to contemplate the life of Christ—His Incarnation, His ministry, His Passion, His Resurrection, and His glory.

As we come to a close of the Rosary Month, we are reminded of the following:

The Rosary is more than simply repeating familiar prayers.

It is a school of prayer. It is a way of meditating on the Gospel.

It is a quiet moment in which we place our joys, struggles, families, fears, hopes, and intentions before God.

With every Hail Mary, we are reminded to turn our hearts toward Christ.

Let the month of the Rosary be everyday. Do not wait until life becomes difficult before you pray.

Pray when you are grateful. Pray when you are joyful. Pray when you are worried. Pray when you are tired.

Pray when everything seems ordinary. Sometimes you may not have the strength to pray an entire Rosary.

Begin with one decade. Even one decade prayed attentively and lovingly can become a beautiful moment of communion with God. The important thing is to begin.

Let Mary bring us to Jesus. The Rosary is a profoundly Marian prayer, but its destination is always Christ.

Mary's role is never to replace Jesus. She leads us toward Him.

As she said at Cana: "Do whatever he tells you." John 2:5

So, take your Rosary. Find a quiet moment. Hold the beads in your hands. Make the Sign of the Cross. And begin.

One Hail Mary at a time.

One mystery at a time.

One day at a time.

May this October renew our love for the Holy Rosary and deepen our desire to know, love, and follow Jesus Christ.

Our Lady of the Rosary, pray for us.
